Summit Chiefs To Spur Trade

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — President Johnson turned homeward from the inter-American summit conference today, and U.S. sources said he was fairly well pleased with the results.

Some of the participants hailed the milestone session as would carry out its decisions and intentions. In Latin America, that is an important reservation.

Johnson came to the meeting of hemisphere chiefs of state at a moment when a sharp harmony reigned. He was able to leave today on at least a superficial note of harmony. U.S. sources considered it a personal achievement for Johnson.

The hemisphere presidents head home with yet another declaration on Latin America's future written into history.

They also are taking home a message from President Johnson: That the building of that future must be largely a do-it-yourself job, with the United States standing by to give friendly help, but help which falls short of what many a Latin-American leader sought.

A "Declaration of the Presidents of America" was the fruit of long debate among hemisphere foreign ministers and two days of discussion by their chiefs.

One Holdout

PUNTA DEL ESTE, URUGUAY (AP)—President Johnson and the chiefs of 18 Latin American nations signed today a "Declaration of the Presidents of America" to speed economic progress, but Ecuador broke the united front and refused to sign.

one of the most important meetings in Latin-American history. But a note of caution remained: It would not be an unqualified success until there was assurance that the nations involved

Council Advised Not To Give Industrial Area To Bay College

The Escanaba City Council and its appointed Planning Commission are at odds today over a strongly worded recommendation of the Commission that the city should not give an industrial site to Bay de Noc Community College for a campus.

The City Council has assured the College Board of Trustees that it can have the site, about 135 acres at U. S. 2-41 and the Danforth Road.

With one dissenting vote the nine-man Planning Commission meeting last night in the City Hall said:

"This is too important a part of our tax base to be given up."

May Reject

Should the Council decide to move forward with its offer of the site to the College, it would require a two-thirds Council majority (under state law) or a simple majority (under local ordinance) to reject the Commission recommendation.

Members of the Commission are Chairman Matt Smith, James S. Davidson Jr., Richard Pryal, Fred Breitenbach, Joseph Ivens, Arne Maki, Paul Snyder, T. D. Vinette and Ronald Lankford. Pryal disagreed with the motion asking the College to pick some other site. J. L. Heiman, chairman of Bay de Noc College Board, and Richard Rinehart, described to the Planning Commission the advantages that dictated the choice of the campus site. Other members of the College Board were also present.

The site is superior to that in second ranking, to the west of the Area High School, for several reasons, Heiman and Rinehart said. Briefly, there would be benefit to the college and to industry in the area through association; and the site does not need the large amount of fill required for that west of the Area High School, they said.

Good For Industry

The Commission asked the College Board of Trustees to consider their choice of sites and pick some other site for their new college. The Commission's reasons included:

"This industrial land has been carefully guarded and reserved for years to be used for heavy industry. It is more or less isolated from the residential areas of our town and is a perfect location for heavy industry. This makes for good land use and good zoning."

"The present City Council very wisely has applied for and gotten a Federal Grant for sewer and water facilities to be extended into this area which will be accomplished by some time next year."

"On the strength of this sewer and water being extended, one industry is already going to put up a plant that will bring the city approximately $5,000 per year in real estate taxes. We have also learned earlier this week that another local industry would like to build in the Industrial Park on the highway. This makes three new buildings within one year in our Industrial Park."

"This land is much too valuable as industrial land to be used for other purposes. The land the college has asked for would have a market value of at least $436,000. (The strip of 150 feet x 4000 feet 150 acres) along the highway is worth $50 per foot or $200,000. The remaining land is worth from $2,000 on up per acre. This would be $2,000 x 118 acres equal $236,000.) These figures were arrived at after discussion with several realtors-appraisers, industrialists and bankers from this area.

"The real estate taxes that could be realized from this site would run close to $130,000 per year. The backbone of any community is its industry and this site is our best hope of increasing Escanaba's industrial backbone. The College can be built in any number of locations but industry in Escanaba belongs in our Industrial Park."

"The College is going to ask the taxpayers for a 2 mill tax to pay for the proposed college expansion. We would like to ask them to consider these same taxpayers and not ask for one of the most valuable pieces of land we have left here in Escanaba."

Suggests Other Sites

Escanaba Is Lab For Act To Curb 379

Compulsory arbitration of disputes involving public employees and the proposed exclusion of police officers from open unions are controversial proposals being watched with more than usual interest in Escanaba.

The City of Escanaba has refused to recognize Teamsters Union Local 328 as the bargaining representative for its police officers.

The Michigan Labor Mediation Board is expected to find the City guilty of unfair labor practice because of this refusal. Such a finding has already been made by an examiner who recently conducted a Mediation Board hearing in Escanaba recently.

The Escanaba City Council has said that it will appeal any adverse ruling and that ultimately the Supreme Court will be asked to determine whether—because of a conflict of interest—police officers should be barred from membership in industrial-type unions.

In a recent House Labor Committee hearing in Escanaba, the City entered testimony citing what it considers a conflict between the allegiance required of police officers to the public, and allegiance to their union.

Most of the testimony received by the House Labor Committee was in support of Act 379 which permits public employees to become members of unions and to be represented by the union of their choice in collective bargaining.

There have been strikes of public employees in Michigan under this act and the Committee was holding hearings on the question of plugging that loophole, plus requiring that disputes be arbitrated—thus avoiding strike stoppages.

Teachers and Teamster Union representatives also testified before the House Labor Committee, upholding Act 379 and opposing any changes in it or amendments to strengthen it.

Labor Committee Chairman James Swallow, R-Alpena, and other Committee members, asked the witnesses for labor whether they could assure that strikes against the public would not occur if the law is unchanged.

None of the witnesses would say that strikes against the public will not occur in the future.

Rep. Swallow at that time defined the public interest as one that should have assurance that in the event of a fire, there should be an operating fire department; in event of lawlessness, there should be an operating police force; and that when schools open, there should be teachers to operate them.

Ionia's Woman Alderman Pinched

IONIA (AP)—The city's first woman alderman sat with a fresh city council—and was pinched.

Mrs. Letha Wolverton was meeting with the newly elected when suddenly she gasped.

Who did it? The councilmen looked innocent—and they were. The culprit was only a broken chair. Mrs. Wolverton explained that she leaned back in her chair, then forward again and the cracked chair pinched her.

Surviving the cutoff was a bill that would allow county prosecutors and the state attorney general, with a circuit judge's approval, to grant immunity from prosecution to a witness who might incriminate himself by testifying during criminal proceedings in court.

The witness would then be assured his testimony could not be used against him and, under the bill, he would be guilty of contempt of court if he refused to answer questions.

A companion bill—giving prosecutors and the attorney general subpoena powers—died in the House Judiciary Committee.

The committee amended the immunity bill to provide it could apply only after court proceedings in a criminal case had been started.

"If we had reported out both these bills the way they were drafted," said committee members.

Hot Contests In Prospect Over Passage

LANSING (AP) — Time ran out at midnight Thursday for a vast pile of bills which ranged from legalizing abortions to banning topless waitresses.

But major bills involving Sunday liquor, public employee strikes, workmen's compensation delay for migrants and immunity—granting powers for prosecutors made it to the legislative calendar, beating the deadline for committee action.

Clerical employees in the House and Senate worked past midnight as the Legislature's committees dumped over 200 bills on their desks.

Thursday's deadline applied to all house - of - origin bills not involving taxes, appropriations or lower court reorganization.

Other measures now dead for the year would have given police "stop and frisk" powers, created a state ombudsman to act on citizen complaints, switched primary elections from August to September, required special licenses for motorcycleists, abolished the one-man grand jury system and instituted compulsory arbitration of teacher labor disputes.

Among the most controversial of the bills which died in committee was one to permit abortions in cases where a prosecutor and three doctors recommended termination of a pregnancy caused by rape or incest.

A bill to permit counties to adopt Sunday liquor sales died in the House, but a similar measure was reported in the Senate with the aid of its opponents.

Liquor Bills Survive At least two of the five Commerce Committee members said they opposed the bill. But they voted it out to give it a hearing on the Senate floor.

A bill to permit Detroit to legalize Sunday liquor by popular vote also survived Thursday's cutoff. Both liquor bills came from committee without favorable recommendation, meaning 20 of the 38 senators will have to agree to move them into position for debate.

Survival in the House of the public employee strike bill is likely to cause a bitter partisan debate, with Democrats expected to oppose the get - tough measure.

It would require that a circuit judge who finds that a strike exists by public employees, including teachers, shall order the strikers back to work. It includes a binding fact - finding procedure in disputes involving fire and police employees.

Firemen and policemen would be forbidden to join labor organizations representing other types of employees, and no public employee could be affiliated with any body claiming the right to strike against government.

Stamp Ban Dies Also reported out Thursday was a bill to outlaw promotional "games" for which materials must be obtained at retail outlets such as gasoline stations or stores. A measure to abolish trading stamps, however, died in committee.

Surviving the cutoff was a bill that would allow county prosecutors and the state attorney general, with a circuit judge's approval, to grant immunity from prosecution to a witness who might incriminate himself by testifying during criminal proceedings in court.

The witness would then be assured his testimony could not be used against him and, under the bill, he would be guilty of contempt of court if he refused to answer questions.

A companion bill—giving prosecutors and the attorney general subpoena powers—died in the House Judiciary Committee.

The committee amended the immunity bill to provide it could apply only after court proceedings in a criminal case had been started.

"If we had reported out both these bills the way they were drafted," said committee members.

tured with the aid of tear gas grenades.

More than a dozen law enforcement officers moved in on a cabin in a remote area near Lac La Belle off the Lake Superior shoreline after trooper Harold Riley, 27, suffered a slight hand cut when a bullet crashed through the windshield of his patrol car.

About the same time, Russell Oja of Lac La Belle was shot and severely injured in the knee while walking toward his cabin about midnight. Oja, about 60, was reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Police surrounded the cabin. When fog lifted in the morning, they lobbed tear gas grenades into the windows, flushing out Jack Noopa, 36, a trapper who spends much of his time in the wooded area.

Officers said they first received a report from a woman bar owner that Noopa was acting strangely, and they went to the area to investigate.

As trooper Riley and his partner approached in their patrol car, the windshield suddenly was shattered by a bullet which whistled between them and slammed into the back seat. Riley was cut on the hand by either a bullet fragment or a glass splinter. He was treated at a nearby hospital and returned to the scene to aid in the search.

Houghton County Sheriff's deputies arrived at the scene about the same time as the State Police. They said they had planned to serve papers on Noopa committing him to a state hospital.

Scene of the shooting was in the Keweenaw Peninsula, the most northerly section of Michigan. Only a handful of persons live in Lac La Belle, a resort community 25 miles northeast of Calumet.

War Increases, End Unsighted: Westmoreland

SAIGON (AP) — Despite an impressive string of allied battlefield victories and soaring Communist desertions, Gen. William C. Westmoreland believes the end of the war is not in sight.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam said in an interview that his battle plan remains the same: "We'll just go on bleeding them until Hanoi wakes up to the fact that they have bled their country to the point of national disaster for several generations. Then they will have to reassess their position."

"My strategy is to put the pressure on the enemy everywhere and that includes the major bombing campaign in the North. The only way I know how to fight a war is by putting the maximum pressure on the maximum amount of the time."

Westmoreland believes Hanoi is still pouring troops south in the mistaken belief that they are winning great victories even though they are suffering terrible casualties.

Intelligence reports show Communist commanders are claiming 5 to 20 times the number of allied troops actually killed in fighting. The U.S. command believes that in this sense Hanoi is a victim of its own propaganda.

The Communists have suffered more than 22,500 casualties since Jan. 1 but are still capable of launching regimental attacks with regularity. Although U.S. intelligence rates the morale of various enemy units at poor to adequate, leadership and fighting spirit remain quite high.

Westmoreland tells his combat commanders: "The only way to defeat the Viet Cong totally is to defeat his morale, discredit his leaders and to make him see only death awaits him in the future."

The Pentagon has agreed to boost U.S. troop strength this year from the present 438,000 to about 500,000. Westmoreland declines to discuss strength ceilings, but other senior U.S. officers are known to believe far more are necessary.

House Creates Ethics Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the House created a permanent Ethics Committee, its leaders appeared busy seeking a winning formula to seat Adam Clayton Powell, the newly re-elected Harlem Democrat whose activities put the spotlight on conduct.

The Ethics Committee was established 400 to 0 Thursday without mention of Powell during a one-hour debate. But the proposal adopted was one of scores which had been submitted at about the time the House refused to seat Powell because of alleged misconduct.

No date was set for appointment of six Democrats and six Republicans to the committee, nor was a deadline set for completion of its first task—drafting a code of "standards of official conduct for members, officers and employees of the House."

News In Brief

By The Associated Press

MADRID, Spain — A government spokesman said Spain's ban on foreign flights over her territory near Gibraltar resulted from abuses by British planes. He denied it was connected with Spain's claim on the British-held rock.

LANSING — Gov. George Romney shook hands with a long-time political foe and gave him a Michigan award. It was a leadership award to George Higgins of Ferndale, a former no tax legislator. Mrs. S. James Besole of Neegaunce and Edward Erickson of Baraga were the U. P. recipients of similar awards. Munising was honored for its area promotion efforts.

LANSING — The State Highway Department has lifted truck weight restrictions on all state highways in the Lower Peninsula. However weight restrictions remain in force on 325 miles of state highways in the Upper Peninsula.

ROME, Ga. — Sixth graders, who sent homemade objects flying over forest lands, were blamed for setting fire to a mountainside of timber. Some of the plastic laundry bags propelled by hot air from burning candles flew more than a mile and set fires that burned several hundred acres of woodland on Mt. Alto.

Tax Valuation In Delta County Up $2.5 Million

Delta County's tax valuation for 1967 was equalized at $81,336,687 by the Board of Supervisors Thursday night — a healthy gain of some $2.5 million over 1966.

The gain came despite loss of some $735,000 in farm personal property valuation, which was exempted from taxation this year for the first time by new state law.

Peter T. Ross, county tax director, said the county gained about $1.2 million in industrial valuation, about $450,000 in commercial, $475,000 in utilities and some $1 million in new residential valuation.

The new residential values include actual new construction and increase in land values and construction costs," Ross said. "Recent sales studies indicate some increases and shifting of values and the assessors are making adjustments and will continue to adjust assessed values to reflect these changes."

Escanaba Gains

Geographically, major gains came in the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone and in Wells and Masonville townships.

Valuation in Escanaba increased $1,047,707 and Gladstone was up $717,892. The increase in Wells Township was $602,856 and in Masonville Township $216,021.

Other townships showing gains were Brampton, $72,262; Escanaba, $29,446; Ford River, $14,892; Garden, $110,336; and Nahma, $33,457.

Ross said the townships down

Revenue Increase

Wells' valuation increase, Ross continued, was largely because of Michigan-Consolidated Gas Co. pipeline, new residential and Mead Corp. inventory. Masonville also benefited because of the Mich-Con pipeline.

The additional valuation will produce about $18,140 in additional tax revenue for Delta County government and will also assist Escanaba Area, Rapid River, Big Bay de Noc, Brampton and Flat Rock school districts.

Delta County tax base for Rock, Bark River-Harris and Baldwin Township school districts declined.

The county equalized valuation is expected to remain the same when the State Tax Commission equalizes last this spring. In recent years, the county has equalized on the same basis as the state and last year there was no change in county and state equalized figures.

State equalized figures are used for tax purposes.

THE WESTERN UPPER PENINSULA Chippewas' unhappiness with the Michigan Conservation Department's enforcement of the game laws on tribal lands in Baraga County was subject of a conference at the last meeting of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association at Indianhead Mountain ski resort last October. Here, from left, State Senator Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood), Chief Joseph Welsh of the Baraga Chippewas, Robert Furlong of the Conservation Department, and Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Dollar Bay) confer on the issue. (Daily Press Photo)

U.P. Chippewas Suing For Old Hunting Rights

Chippewa Indians of the western Upper Peninsula are asking the court to determine whether they must observe state hunting and fishing laws on certain lands and waters in Baraga County.

In a complaint filed in Federal District Court, the L'Anse, Vieux Desert and Ontonagon bands of Chippewas contend they should be permitted to hunt and fish without restrictions on land in the L'Anse Reservation, which lies north and east of the Village of L'Anse. It covers all or parts of four townships. The complaint claims the land was set aside as a reservation under a treaty of Sept. 30, 1854.

The Indians allege that state conservation officials "have attempted, are attempting and will continue to attempt to enforce state hunting and fishing regulations" against them on the reservation. But, the plaintiffs maintain, they do not consider these regulations "to be at all applicable to them while they are hunting and fishing upon the L'Anse Reservation lands."

Arrests for conservation law violations, the complaint states, have exposed the Indians "to loss of livelihood, to prosecution, imprisonment and fines, the loss of hunting and fishing equipment and confiscation of other property, to expenditures and attorneys' fees to defend their treaty rights, to numerous and lengthy legal proceedings."

Defendants

In requesting a declaratory judgment in favor of the Indians, the complaint urges the court to declare the plaintiffs' rights under treaties and to de-

Dept. Stand

The Conservation Department in response to Senator Joseph Mack's request for a legal opinion with reference to the hunting rights of the Indians under the 1842 treaty ceding their lands to the federal government, cited the Supreme Court decision in the Michigan vs. James J. Chosa and Bastil Attikons case.

The decision stated that: "Both because of the new citizenship and by the express terms of the statute under which the allotments were made, defendants became subject to the laws of the state, civil and criminal."

"Assuming . . . that their right of tribal or other property is not impaired by taking on American citizenship, applies to the treaty right to hunt and fish on the ceded land, it would only preserve that right as a private servitude or profit a prendre, and would confer no greater privilege of violating state laws than the owner of the land would have."

Major Increases Listed

Other major increases in the budget were $4,200 to Pinecrest Medicare Facility as Delta County's share for improvements, $4,000 for elections with 1968 being an election year, and $2,000 for a County mental health program.

Remainder of the increase was spread throughout county departments and agencies for increased operating costs and annual salary increments.

Slave Dance And Sale Brings $60 To DUS Fund

A total of $60 will go to Delta United Services as a result of the combined profits from the Bay de Noc Community College Student Government's "Slave Sale" and "Slave Dance," held Thursday.

The slave sale was held at noon with Steve Davis, auctioneer. The 20 "slave girls" spent the afternoon typing term papers, washing cars, and baby sitting. One of the boys "bought" five girls to help move furniture. About $38 was realized from the auction, while the dance last night brought in another $23.

Music was provided by the "Evil-Ends," a band made up from members of two college groups, the "Livin' Ends" and "John Evil and the Spirits."

The United States has about 780 junior colleges with a total attendance of 1.15 million students.

40 Cent Boost In Milk Prices For U.P. Urged

'No Cause' Ruled By Circuit Jury In Civil Action

A Circuit Court jury Thursday after about an hour of deliberations returned a verdict of "no cause for action" in a $200,000 damage suit against Casimir Milkiewicz.

Richard D. Hazen, 33, of 326 N. 14th St., had asked damages for injuries allegedly received in a fall at Sav-Mor IGA Food-liner, 306 Stephenson Ave., on June 10, 1965. Milkiewicz owns the store.

Hazen, who was represented by Attorney James Fitzharris, said he slipped on the floor and fell into a milk case. Milkiewicz was defended by Attorney Arthur Nieman.

The trial began before Judge Bernard H. Davidson Wednesday morning. The "no cause" verdict was returned Thursday about 6 p. m.

County Board Moves To Improve Bridges

The Delta County Board of Supervisors Thursday night moved to improve bridges in rural areas.

In a special appropriation from the County Public Improvements funds, the Board allocated $10,000 to the County Road Commission to be used with matching funds from townships and the commission to begin a program of replacing worn out bridges.

Transfer of the funds is effective immediately and will be used by the Road Commission on a "first come, first serve" priority basis with townships applying for bridge assistance.

About 15 bridges in Delta County over county rivers are considered unsafe for heavy traffic, including school buses and heavy trucks. Twice in recent years millage proposals by the County to raise money for repair of the bridges have been defeated.

A plan proposed a year ago which sought federal funds was not approved by the federal government.

Units Share Cost

Under the program adopted by the Board of Supervisors Thursday night, it is expected that most of the unsafe bridges in the county can be replaced in about five years. The Road Commission will do the work.

The $10,000 from the county will be used to match funds from the Road Commission and the Township applying for assistance with one third coming from the County Bridge fund, one third from the Road Commission and one third from the Township.

The Public Improvement Fund was established a year ago from non-tax revenues received by the county. A $40,000 appropriation from the fund was specially designated for county primary roads to be used on a matching basis with federal money.

On other action, the Board reappointed William Noreus of Gladstone to the County Building Authority, denied a request by the Powers-Spalding Lions club for a $100 appropriation to help defray cost of July 4 fireworks, and tabled for further study a request from the League of Women voters that a second juvenile officer be appointed.

Sheriff's Leave Extended
A request from Sheriff C.A. (Cully) Johnson for an additional 30-60 days leave of absence because of health reasons was approved. He had previously been granted a leave of up to 60 days.

The Board, in order to qualify for federal funds, approved asking the Michigan Dept. of Mental Health to establish a system paralleling the state civil service system of classification and pay scales for use by the Delta County Act 54 Board in hiring personnel for the county community mental health services program.

A resolution supporting rapid action on a proposed four-lane freeway across the U.P. from St. Ignace to Ironwood was adopted. The board referred to the Public Affairs committee for further study a proposal by the Delta County Democratic Committee that Delta County join with other counties in establishing a centrally located juvenile detention home in the Upper Peninsula.

Drug Shortage Felt In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Plant shutdowns mounted, violence flared and reports of an impending drug shortage arose as a trucking strike — lockout continued in the Chicago area.

More industries were feeling the pinch of the 5-day-old contract dispute between Chicago truck drivers unions and trucking firms. One spokesman said the situation was "reaching the paralysis stage."

The Hammond Organ Co. halted production Thursday at its five Chicago area factories, idling 1,200 workers. Honeywell Inc., an electronics firm, closed four suburban plants, putting some 750 persons out of work.

Thomas H. Coulter, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said some drug stores have been unable to fill prescriptions because they haven't had deliveries for several days. One union spokesman, however, said, "deliveries of drugs and medicines are being made on schedule."

Another official of the association warned that the trucking shutdown imperils the jobs of more than 168,000 workers in the electrical machine industry — "the largest manufacturing segment in employment in the Chicago area."

Mortier's court.

A. W. Stromberg Funeral Set For Traffic Victim

Austin W. Stromberg

Austin W. Stromberg, 75, of 558 Elmwood Drive, Evanston, Ill., formerly of Escanaba, died at 11 p. m. Thursday in Evans-ton Hospital following a brief illness.

He was born Sept. 24, 1891 in Escanaba and never married.

Mr. Stromberg graduated with Escanaba High School Class of 1909 and began his business career in 1910 as a stenographer for the I. Stephenson Co. of Wells. He entered Northwestern University in 1912 and graduated in 1916, after capturing its football team. In 1918 he entered the army in World War I, serving as a second lieutenant in the Motor Transport Corps.

He was a retired editor of the Power Wagon, a national truck publication, an active member of the Swedish Engineers of America, the American Legion, member of the Deru Honorary Fraternity of Northwestern University, the American Legion and the Central Methodist Church.

Mr. Stromberg and other members of the EHS Class of 1909 created a Delta County Historical Museum fund for expansion which has grown to about $1,000. He was toastmaster at a gay program in the Swedish Engineers Club Chicago, in 1963 at which Escanaba launched its centennial observance, cheered by former Escanabans living in the Chicago area.

Mr. Stromberg had a summer home on Lost Lake near Iron Mountain.

He is survived by one brother, Ivan of Iron Mountain; two sisters, Mrs. Foss (Mildred) Elwin of East Lansing and Mrs. William (Lillian) Pope of Chicago; a niece, Mrs. Roland Ziegler of West Covina, Calif. and a nephew, Dr. Richard Elwin of Salt Lake City, Utah.

The body is being taken to the Anderson Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements were incomplete today.

Gogebic Sewer Bonds Approved

LANSING (AP)—Issuance of $20 million in tax anticipation notes by Detroit for operating expenses was approved Thursday by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Approval was given also for $1,725,000 in special assessment bonds issued by Wyoming, Kent County, for street, water main and sewer construction.

Others: Wakefield, Gogebic County, $407,000 in general obligation bonds for sewer construction; Hartford, Van Buren County, $12,000 in tax anticipation notes for operating expenses.

Hospital

Elvin Metciver, 1712 22nd Ave. S., is a surgical patient at St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. Phyllis Carlson of Soo Hill will have surgery on Monday, April 17 at St. Vincent Hospital in Green Bay.

Wanda Swanson, 118 S. Court, Gladstone, is a patient at St. Francis Hospital, room 223.

The death of Lane Francis Wood, 7, of Escanaba, who was struck and fatally injured by a light truck on Thursday, was this city's first traffic fatality this year.

The accident occurred in the 1500 block, Ludington St. at 10:47 a. m. and the truck was driven by Joseph W. Pinar, 37, of Gladstone Rte. 1. Police reported that Pinar was driving about 20 to 25 miles an hour when the boy darted into the street from behind a parked car.

Police said that shortly before the accident Lane Wood and Jeffrey Gillmet, 6, of 509 N. 19th St., were at Mueller's Pizza Shop near the Junior High School. They said witnesses reported the boys were playing and Lane dashed into the street.

The injured boy was taken to St. Francis Hospital by police patrol car.

Lane was to have started at the Jefferson Elementary School on Thursday, transferring there from the Lemmer School when the family moved. He was registered under the name Lane Rutan and because of this confusion it was not immediately determined that he was enrolled in school in Escanaba.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Besaw of 532 N. 20th St., and was born Nov. 13, 1959 in Flint, Mich., and was a first grade student at the John Lemmer School.

Surviving besides his parents are a sister, Pat, and a brother, Carl, both at home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood of Flint and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Steimer of Detroit.

The body has been removed to the Anderson Funeral Home where friends may call after 4 p. m. Sunday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Monday at the funeral home chapel with Rev. Arnold Thompson of St. Thomas Church officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

success and growth but not in the middle of Escanaba's industrial site.

"Heavy industry and colleges built side by side do not make for good land use or good zoning. The college has many other sites available to them and should reconsider them leaving Escanaba its tax base in its industrial park.

"If the College Board still feels it must request the rezoning of Escanaba's Industrial Park, the Commission will have to deny such a request. To do other than this would be a violation of the trust put upon us by the people of Escanaba through the City Council. This is too important a part of our tax base to be given up."

Suggested to Richard Juett that he consult with the Board of Appeals in connection with his request to rezone from light industrial to commercial three lots at Stephenson Ave. and 7th Ave. N., where a gas station is proposed to be constructed.

Asked John Dulek, city engineer-planner, to prepare a report for the next meeting on the subject of rezoning city airport property along S. 23rd St. to commercial to permit the erection of advertising signs, which may be barred by state and federal laws in the future. The request was from Clarence Moreau of Escanaba.

Freedom Shrine Ceremony Set

The Escanaba Exchange Club will present Freedom Shrines to the student bodies of Escanaba Area High School and Holy Name High School at a joint assembly of the two schools Tuesday afternoon, April 18.

The ceremonies will begin at 2 p. m. in the Escanaba High School gym. A Freedom Shrine is a display of a number of authentic reproductions of the nation's most important documents, beginning with the Declaration of Independence. Exchange Club President Ted Breitenbach said the Freedom Shrines are valued at more than $300.

Dignitaries who will attend the presentation ceremonies include Congressman Phillip Ruppe of Houghton, State Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistique and Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerbergh. Appropriate music will be provided by the Escanaba High School Band.

The Freedom Shrines will be displayed in the lobby corridor of Escanaba High School and in a class room corridor of Holy Name High School. The program is open to the public.

Nursery School Second Session Being Formed

Twenty-three new members were enrolled in the Escanaba Cooperative Nursery at an organization meeting held at the First Methodist Church education annex Thursday night.

This assures a second session and there is the possibility of a third session (a group of approximately 25 pre-school age children) if there is enough interest evidenced.

Mrs. William DeHaan, Mrs. Raymond Hockstad and the teacher, Mrs. Jack Magnuson, explained to the new members the activities of the past year, how the group organizes, and the parents' responsibilities.

Mrs. Donald Alimenti and Mrs. Thomas Hughson are the new co-chairmen with Mrs. David Nordin and Mrs. Robert Gallagher the membership co-chairmen.

Persons interested in the program are asked to call ST 6-5017 or ST 6-4758 before April 25.

Intermediate Boards To Meet

A joint meeting of the Delta-Schoolcraft and Marquette-Alger Intermediate Boards of Education will be held at 8 p. m. Monday, May 8, at the Delta-Schoolcraft offices in Kipling to consider a petition from the Escanaba Area school district for transfer of property to the Flat Rock district.

The Escanaba Area Board recently approved the petition for transfer of the property in Escanaba Township. Keeping the property in the district would affect its tax allocation rate.

Crewmen Survive Spy Plane Crash

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP) — The pilot of an Air Force SR71 spy plane was found alive today, several hours after the plane crashed in flames.

Maj. Earl M. Bonne was found after a night-long search, "apparently in good shape," a Kirtland Air Force Base spokesman said in Albuquerque.

The other crewman on the two-passenger, 2,000-mile-a-hour plane, Maj. Richard E. Sheffield, was picked up Thursday night by a military helicopter soon after the crash.

"They both seem to be okay," the Air Force spokesman, Jim Harvey, said. "We don't know any more about the finding of the pilot except that he's apparently in good shape."

Read A Book Lately?

We're reminded by events like the publication of William Manchester's "Death of a President" that books still have tremendous wallop. This is expected to be one of the great books of all time, not in point of literary quality nor history, but because it is so provocative and controversial; the kind of a book that other books are being written about already, although it's just been published.

It is going to make Manchester at least $1.25 million before taxes and the Kennedy Library will get $10 million or more from its sale. So people still are reading; and when there's great reading appeal there is enormous readership.

The huge current readership for books in this country, however, comes not from the occasional publishing bonanzas like Manchester's book, but from the demands of education today and from our affluence and leisure and their call for "escape" reading. No generation of Americans has ever studied as hard as the one that's now going to school. They are the greatest class of readers that this nation has known, because there's more to know now than ever before and they must know more of it to get a passing grade and a good job.

Whether these bookworms will turn into bookish adults remains to be seen, but they'll at least have a facility in reading that many persons of the older generation don't have and this is a magic key to reading. If reading is difficult it isn't pleasure and much adult reading is for pleasure, although an increasing amount of it has become non-fiction and serious stuff.

As the Upper Peninsula observes Library Week next week it can note that the public libraries nationally have not continued their steady march to larger readerships. They stumbled last year and had less circulation of books than the year before. This surprise, however, results from federal assistance and other aids to the school libraries, which have taken up more of the job of supplying books to the young and lightened that job for the public libraries, although it continues a big part of their work. The change, then, has not really been one of slippage, but of transfer.

The big wind in the libraries of the Upper Peninsula as we mark Library Week is the new library federations. There are two of them in the U. P., the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation composed of the 6 counties of Iron, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft and Alger, and the Eastern Peninsula Library Federation composed of Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce counties.

These federations pool the resources of their member libraries after a fashion and they also create new resources which are the means of implementing their aim of bringing library services to every person living in the federation district. This is a new concept of library service, which was once limited to cities which operated their own municipal book services.

The Library Federation is supported by penal fines, by state and federal aids and by per capita contributions of the member libraries and it operates library stations in the smaller communities to augment the services of the city libraries, which contract with some outlying areas to supply library services.

The Mid-Peninsula Federation operates a very active film loan service out of its Gladstone library, as well as the reference works out of the Escanaba Library, the book services out of the Dickinson County Library at Iron Mountain, etc. In March 8,000 persons saw films supplied by the Federation.

The Mid-Pen now has 12,000 books of its own and continues to build its stocks. It is thriving and what it needs to be thoroughly, completely, spectacularly successful in the unbookish reaches of the Upper Peninsula is only more public knowledge that its services are available to everyone. It has periodicals. It has books with large print for the elderly. It has a fine staff of volunteer librarians at its stations. If it could make a wish it would be for: More readers!

Auto Club Safety Plea

Crackdown Asked On Drunk Drivers

The Automobile Club of Michigan suggests a mandatory chemical breath test — followed by medical and psychiatric examination — for drinking drivers, stiffer penalties for "high-point" drivers, a temporary 50 mile speed limit on two-lane county roads, and re-evaluation of the speed capabilities of two-lane roads.

The suggestions, based on findings in the Club's survey of 363 fatal accidents last summer, are intended to cope with the causes of traffic fatalities, said Fred N. Rehm, Auto Club general manager.

"It is, to our knowledge, the first time a state traffic safety program has been designed to fit a set of specific facts," Rehm said in the foreword to the Club's just-published 61-page report, "How to Bring More Back Alive!"

The Club's report and suggestions were turned over to the Senate Highway Committee.

Drivers!

The Automobile Club of Michigan has urged Dr. William Haddon, national safety administrator, to place greater emphasis on motorist behavior and education in the drive to cut down on traffic injuries and deaths.

"While the automobile has received almost all the blame in the current auto safety discussions in Washington, it is the driver who causes almost 90 per cent of the accidents," said the Club.

In light of an Auto Club study 20 per cent of the 2,296 fatalities in Michigan last year, "emphasis should be shifted (from the car) to the major cause, the driver. Most of what is being done to improve safety in cars (and we approve of it) will have no effect on cutting accidents, though it may cut deaths and severity of the injuries."

tee, and the House committees on Public Safety and Roads and Bridges.

In 44 Per Cent Club investigators found that drinking was involved to some extent in at least 44 per cent of the fatalities, that drivers with high violation point records caused a disproportionately large number of fatal accidents and that nearly 70 per cent of these accidents occurred on two-lane roads.

Based on its findings, the Club also suggested closer parental supervision over the under-18 driver for the first year he is behind the wheel, uniform statewide driver licensing under the Secretary of State, an increase in the size of the State Police force, in-service training for local police officers and further study of the use of state highways by motorcycles and motor bikes.

The Club suggested that the new State Police vehicle safety check lane program be given a chance to operate "before making any move toward a universal-compulsory vehicle inspection system."

Auto Club investigators, "although they admittedly are not automotive engineers, could not find any positive evidence that vehicle defects caused accidents," Rehm said.

Curbs On Intoxication To cope with the drinking problem — probably the largest single factor involved in traffic fatalities according to the report — the Club suggests:

• "A Drinking Driver Law should be passed, requiring a mandatory chemical breath test for alcohol for any driver charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence."

"The test should be a condition for holding a Michigan driver's license. The motorist so charged should be allowed to refuse... but with his refusal, he should surrender his right to hold the license. This suspension should be for some realistic period of time and subject to review by the courts."

• "Besides present penalties, the law should require the first offender — once he is convicted — to undergo a medical and psychiatric examination of his fitness to drive."

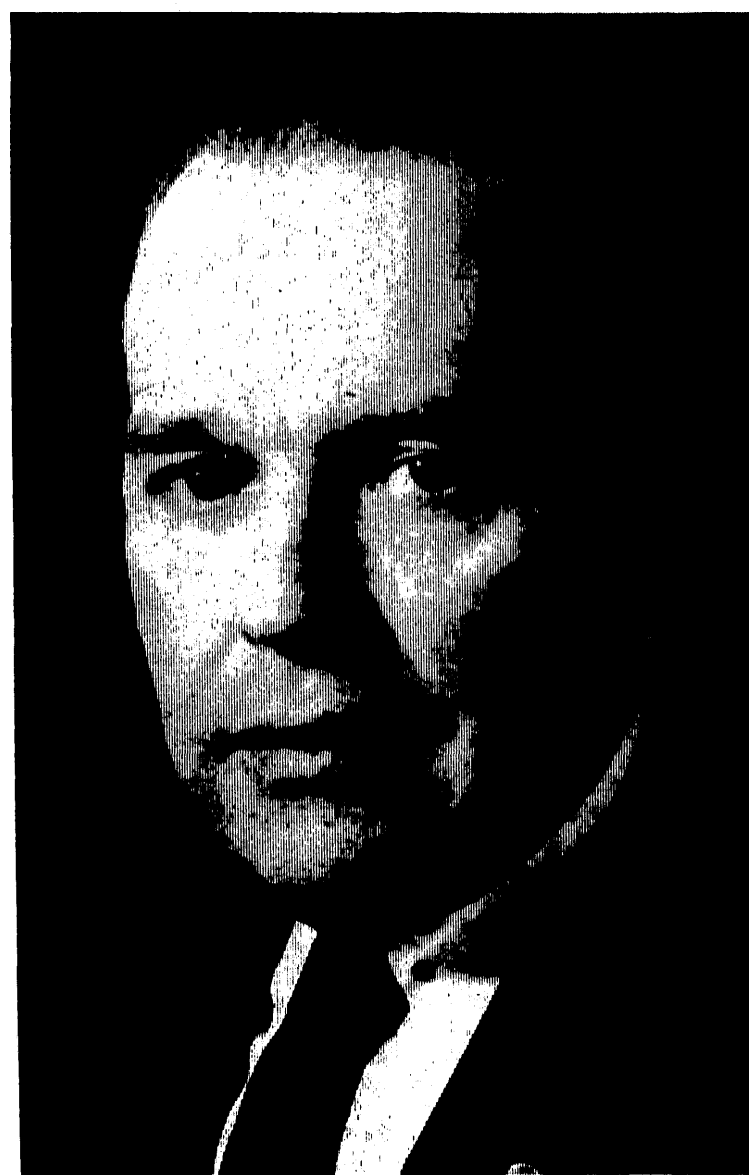

To protect the innocent, the report said, "a police officer would be required to have reasonable cause to believe the driver is under the influence. He would have to charge him with the offense before demanding that the driver come to the station for a test."

Point System

Since the point system is spotlighting the problem driver without taking him off the road, the Club suggested the following:

• Mandatory suspension for 12 points in two years (not now mandatory), for three moving violations or three moving accidents in one year.

• In order to get at the dri-

Fred N. Rehm

ver who manages to keep his point total just below the 12-point level every two years, mandatory review by the Secretary of State for any driver who accumulates 30 points in five years — unless he already has had a suspension in that period.

• Increase in the point penalty for repeats of like violations (for example, more points for a second conviction of speeding than the first).

• Mandatory license suspension for the driver who is called in for three re-examinations in nine years (three successive license periods).

• Jail sentences for driving with a suspended or revoked license, or outside the limits on a restricted license.

License Returns

The Club also suggested new thinking on the practice of returning a driver's license on the plea of job necessity. Some of the drivers who caused fatal accidents last summer had their licenses returned on that plea.

Since nearly 7 out of 10 of these fatal accidents happened on two-lane county roads or rural state trunklines (which are primarily two lanes wide), and since speed too fast for conditions was the second largest factor in deaths, the Club suggests that a temporary speed limit of 50 miles per hour be established on all two-lane

Unrest Feeds Reds

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Behind the scenes, there's growing worry in the Pentagon about the Castro underground in some sections of Latin America.

Recent outbreaks have occurred in Colombia and Venezuela; a state of emergency has been decreed for southeast Bolivia, but the problem is much wider than these three countries. Only a small part of the underground-organized unrest shows.

Despite the Alliance for Progress and attempts by some Latin governments to improve the sad rural conditions on which subversive insurgents feed, things are getting worse. Paradoxically, some of the worst problems today are in countries which have made determined efforts in the past five to 10 years.

Take Bolivia as one example. Gen. Jorge Belmonte Ardiles, commander of the Bolivian army, reports a "guerrilla army" in the southeast of the country. For some time, political unrest and disturbances in the Bolivian mining areas have detracted from the effectiveness of rural reconstruction and military-civic action. In fact, the political unrest has caused a considerable number of army units to suspend work on civic action projects and shift back to internal security operations.

Yet Bolivia was one of the first Latin countries to take decisive land reform steps. In 1953 the government provided by law for extensive land redistribution, settlement of new areas and improvements in tenancy conditions.

In the early 1950s, 2,500 to 25,000 acre-properties accounted for 70 per cent of the farmland. By August 1966, 17 million acres had been redistributed to 179,000 farm families

'Year Of The Rear' Revolting To Reader

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column you said, "This Is The Year of the Rear." You were responding to a reader who was questioning the wisdom of piercing her ears.

I would like to correct you, Madam. This is really "The Year of the Rear." I am an attorney who is normally mild-mannered and slow to anger, but the revolting appearance of broad-beamed women in too tight and too short skirts has moved me to write my first letter to a newspaper.

It is bad enough to view these females coming, but to watch them going is too great a burden on males who must observe the spectacle. If a woman is not aware of the grotesque picture she presents, why doesn't her best friend tell her? Please rush your answer. I am sinking fast.

GOGGLED EYED

Dear Gog: Because her best friend is probably wearing a skirt that is too tight and too short and thinks she is a knockout.

I have said it before and I'll say it again. Mid-knee should be the limit for a woman over 30 — yes, even if she has a figure that would shatter a glass eye at forty paces. What some women consider high style is actually low taste. A skirt that is too tight and too short can make a woman appear ludicrous.

Dear Ann Landers: The high school is a 20-minute walk from our home. There are no buses out here. The problem is our 16-year-old son. I'm in a car pool with a neighbor whose daughter is 14 (same age as our daughter). I drive the girls one week and the neighbor drives them the next. Our son is welcome to ride along but he refuses to ride with the girls. He insists that my husband drop him off on his way to work.

This morning it was raining and my husband was behind schedule. The neighbor was out in front but our son refused her offer of a ride. He said he would wait for his father. I blew my top and said he was too demanding. My husband took the boy's side, said he was shy and I shouldn't force him.

This "shy" boy has been going to teen dances, doing the monkey and the jerk for almost two years. Please referee.

Q—What mammal eats nothing for several months during the breeding season?
A—The male fur seal.

Q—Who held Abraham Lincoln's hat during the first inaugural exercises?
A—Stephen A. Douglas, his bitter political opponent.

Q—When was the first time that a former U. S. president administered the oath of office to a president-elect?
A—Calvin Coolidge took the oath of office on March 4, 1925. The oath was administered by Chief Justice William Howard Taft, a former president.

Here is a new type of problem. West was Col. Bill Christian, now in Vietnam. East was Sally Johnson of Westport, Conn. They cooperated to produce one of the most brilliant defenses we have ever seen. The problem is which, if either, should get the lion's share of the credit?

Sally started proceedings by placing her king of diamonds on her partner's queen. If South had ducked he would have made the contract but South can't really be blamed for taking that first diamond. The game was duplicate and he was going out for a lot of tricks.

South played the ace of spades and continued with a spade to dummy's queen and Sally's king.

Sally returned the five of hearts. South ducked and Bill was in with the queen. Bill thought for a while. Normally the play of the diamond king would show a doubleton but in that case South would hold five diamonds and only three clubs and would have opened the bidding with a diamond so Bill decided that Sally held two more diamonds. In that case one of those two diamonds had to be the ten spot. Bill played his deuce of diamonds and Sally was in with the ten.

Now it was Sally's turn to huddle. Did Bill hold two more diamonds? She decided that if he did he would have won the first heart with the king, not the queen. Sally led her deuce of hearts. South rose with the ace, led a club to dummy's king, cashed the jack of spades and his three high clubs and conceded the last two tricks to Bill's jack of diamonds and king of hearts. South was down one.

Now the answer to the question: Both deserve equal credit because it was a partnership operation.

What do you do now?

A—Bid four no-trump. You will go to six spades if your partner shows two aces or seven spades if he shows three.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of jumping to four spades over your three diamonds your partner has merely bid three spades. What do you do now?

Officers Elected At Webster PTA

The April meeting of the Webster PTA was held Monday evening and Miss Sundquist's fourth grade won the room count. In an installation ceremony conducted by Mrs. Leo Niquette the following officers were installed: Webster School: President, Mrs. Myles Leonard; Vice President, Mrs. Wesley Hansen; Secretary, Mrs. Louis Brunette; Treasurer, Mrs. Cleve Moore; Historian, Mrs. George Petaja; Delegate, Mrs. Harvey Pierson; Alternate, Mrs. Hugh Nelson. Franklin School: President, Mrs. Vernon Johnson; Vice President, Mrs. Robert Bowman; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. George Cavadas; Secretary, Mrs. Robert Ryde; Treasurer, Mrs. Ed Hurley; Delegate, Mrs. Lois Diederich.

Jean Cole's French Dancers delighted the audience with a program of lively folk dances. Guest speaker, William Williams of Bay de Noc College gave a demonstration on the use and development of modern math stressing the importance of understanding rather than mere memorizing in mathematical study.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cecil Collins and the fourth grade mothers.

Ralph Godfreys Mark Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Godfrey of 9 S. 3rd St., Gladstone celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday, April 8 with a surprise party at the Legion hall in Gladstone.

Party plans were made by their daughters and son-in-law, Mrs. Janet Martinson and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Terrian of Gladstone. Decorations included white streamers and wedding bells. The couple was presented many gifts.

Mrs. Godfrey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mischeau of Rapid River is one of nine children. Her brothers are: Irving Mischeau of Gladstone, Hayden of Rock, Peter, Rte. 1, Gladstone; sisters, Mrs. Ed Young of Brampton, Mrs. Laura Leach, Mrs. Harold Corwin and Mrs. Willard Syers of Gladstone, Mrs. Walter Deneau of Masonville.

Ralph Godfrey, a native of Gladstone is the son of Mrs. Charles Godfrey and the late Mr. Godfrey. He is employed as a mechanic for the Clairmont Transfer Co.

His family includes ten brothers and four sisters, Merlin of Chicago, Peter of Sault Ste. Marie, Walter, Lyle, Bill, Art, Gerald, Robert and Everett of Gladstone, Ted of Milwaukee; sisters, Mrs. Leon Mischeau of Ford River, Mrs. Joe Eagle and Mrs. Fred Khol-

Rock 4-H'ers Organize For Summer Work

The Rock 4-H club elected new officers and organized for summer project work during the monthly meeting held at the Lions clubhouse, April 12. Vice President, Christine Mankiewicz presided, as is customary during the last meeting of the season.

On the election of summer officers, she was elected president. Serving with her will be Annette Kulack, vice president; Carolyn Kulack, secretary; Nancy Weldum, treasurer; Jim Mankiewicz, recreation; Dianne Westlund, historian; Susie Rock, lunch; and Karen Hall, reporter.

Comments given by clothing members on local judging favored evaluation of each other's garments by members with leaders. Members felt they learned more about sewing this way.

Last summer reports were returned and year pins and certificates were given to members completing their winter projects and reports.

During the business meeting, members voted to continue planting and caring for the flower beds in Rock. Carolyn Kulack is chairman of this project. Mrs. Weldum told members rags are still being sold and any donations will be appreciated by the club.

To raise additional funds for a summer club trip, members voted to sell zip code books in the near future. Any one interested in obtaining a book may contact any 4-H member or leader.

Summer projects available will be rocks, foods, gardening and photography. New members are Charlotte, Karen and Debbie Hall.

Jim Mankiewicz, John Peltonen and Eddie Wadeen will be exhibiting their engraving pencils at the U. P. State Fair in August.

MYF Spring Convocation In Session Here

Rev. Marion Kline

The spring convocation of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Upper Peninsula is now in session at the Central Methodist Church of Escanaba. There are over 135 youth and leaders from all parts of the Upper Peninsula here to study the needs of the Christian faith in today's world. The convocation which began on Thursday, April 13, will continue through Saturday.

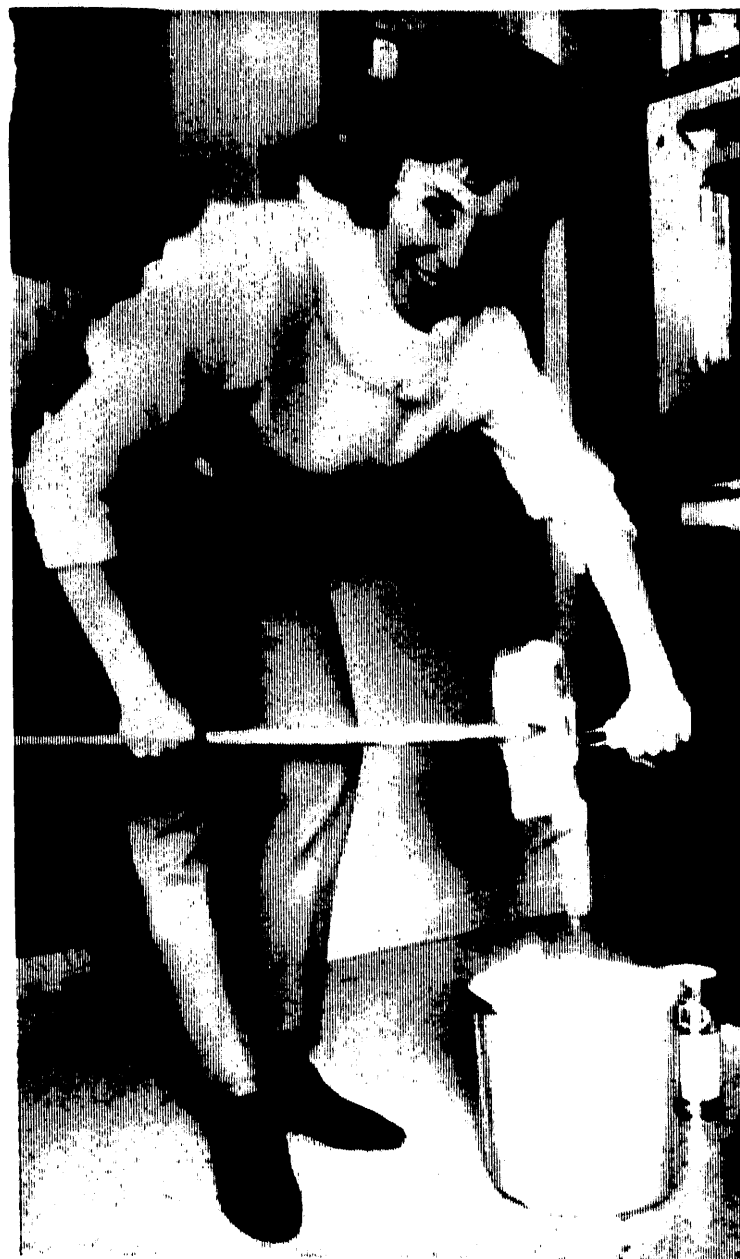

The program features a message from the Rev. Miss Marion Kline, who served from 1956-62 as a field worker for the Board of Christian Education of the Methodist Church, and who had her headquarters in Marquette while serving the churches of the Upper Peninsula.

Miss Kline is presently on furlough from a missionary term of three years in the area of Christian Education in Manila, Philippines. Miss Kline will return there in May to continue teaching Christian education in the Union Theological Seminary which is located near Manila.

Other speakers for the convocation included the Rev. James R. Balfour, District Superintendent of the Methodist Church of the Upper Peninsula and Robert Watt of Ypsilanti, presently the president of the Methodist Youth of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Eric S. Hammer, pastor of the Ishpeming Methodist Church and son of Karl J. Hammer, brought the message, "Youth and Social Action."

"TOOTHACHE TREE" "Toothache tree" is another name for the prickly ash, so-called because the bark produces a cooling sensation when chewed and acts as an anesthetic for toothache.

MRS. MARSHALL J. HUNGERFORD of Jackson, 30 year old mother of three boys, has been named Mrs. Michigan for 1967. She will compete in the Mrs. America contest May 4-11 at San Diego. Mopping floors is one of the more pleasurable tasks of housekeeping, says Mrs. Hungerford. (AP Wirephoto)

Magic Number Still Thirteen, Says Peggy

By PEGGY BRYSON

I guess I can't put it off any longer . . . its time to admit it's a failure! (sob) Not really a complete failure, but it's been two weeks since I've lost an ounce.

Don't feel sorry for me . . . that's my whole problem. I feel sorry for myself. One day, I said, "Peggy, old girl, you've been so good about this diet, why not treat yourself to one of those cookies?"

Not only did I treat myself, I treated my alter ego, id, shadow and all, I ate seven cookies!

Fortunately I regained my self control in time and nibbled on celery the rest of the day. I've also done a little cheating in the bread department. I baked two batches without snitching a crumb and then I couldn't take it anymore. One morning I ate three pieces of toast, with peanut butter!

Don't get the idea I'm giving up my campaign . . . I'll never do that, it's just going to take longer. So as of today I've got about 13 pounds to lose.

Behind every diet - failing wife you're sure to find a successful weight-gaining husband. Dick has been doing well in his crusade to gain 20 pounds. He's gained 13 pounds so far and is enjoying every minute of it!

Can you imagine anyone getting around bragging that he's getting a pot belly? Well, Dick thinks this prospect is wonderful . . . Don't tell him, but Charles Atlas he isn't yet!

We'll be back next week, hopefully with good news, good luck to all my fellow dieters!

Fox Point Nixes $3 Spooner Fee

FOX POINT, Wis. (AP) - A proposed extra $3 fee for spooners who favor the parked car for romance has been rejected by the Fox Point Village Board.

Village attorney Fraley Weidner said police urged him to ask the council for an ordinance providing a $6 fine for illegal parking when persons are using the offending vehicle for nocturnal kissing.

The present fine for illegal parking, $3, was left standing by the council which voted down the augmented fine this week.

Garden Peninsula Spring Conference

The Upper Peninsula Council on Family Relations is planning its annual spring conference around the theme, "Family Influence on Child Growth." On May 1 in the education building and recreation room of the First Methodist Church, 111 East Ridge, Marquette.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. (E.S.T.). Free baby sitting service will be provided in the church nursery for mothers of pre-school children.

Dr. Armin Grams, of Detroit is the keynote speaker and conference consultant. He will speak on "Early Childhood and Family Relationships in Depth," and "Birth to Maturity." Contact Mrs. Marian Cota, 644-2277 for further details.

Trenary

Senior Citizens are invited to a meeting to be held at the Town Hall, April 17 at 1 p.m. Following the business meeting there will be games and refreshments.

Dr. E. W. Hildebrand, M.D., will conduct a five day series of meetings for anyone desiring to stop smoking. The group will meet Sunday at 8 p.m. in the school for the first lecture and film.

Willard Williamson is a surgical patient in St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba.

Mrs. Erwin Harris is a practical nursing student at Bay de Noc Community College, Escanaba. Also enrolled at the college are Kathleen Ramile and Ronda Bucholtz.

The Lion's Club will meet Tuesday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall.

Band To Feature Bobby Christian

Bobby Christian

The Gladstone Senior and Junior High School Band will present the first public concert in the new Gymnasium Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. Bobby Christian, who has been called "the world's greatest percussionist" by Paul Whiteman, will be featured during the concert.

Composer, arranger, performer, Christian is one of the most versatile musicians living today. At the age of 12, he studied under Walter Dennis and began arranging for rehearsal bands. A year later, Bobby played his first theatre engagement and was considered a child prodigy.

From 1941 to 1953, he headed the largest school of percussion in the country and coached many great percussion artists. Since then he has been affiliated with NBC in Chicago and the ABC network in New York, arranging for many of the network's great artists. He is most proud, however, of his current writing for Dick Schory and the Percussion Pops Orchestra.

Christian will conduct a music clinic, open to all percussionists and directors, at the new Physical Education Building at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday.

Litter Cleanup Starts On Roads

LANSING (AP) - A paint-and-pick-up program is in progress along the state's highways.

The State Highway Department reports its litter cleanup program now is underway after a slow start due to the long-lingering snow cover.

Tons of debris are being picked up by crews working methodically along the state's 9,200-mile highway network.

It also is cleanup time for 105 roadside parks, 45 freeway rest areas and 1,800 picnic table sites.

Briefly Told

State Police ticketed Rodney Dann, Brampton, for speeding, and Delores Lauscher, Rte. 1, Cornell, for no registration or proof of insurance Tuesday.

Edward J. LaLonde, 18, of 220 N. 11th St., Escanaba, waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of breaking and entering when arraigned Thursday before Justice Ross Davis of Gladstone. State Police made the arrest. LaLonde was charged with entering a cabin in Wells Township owned by John Derouin, Rte. 1, Escanaba.

A hit and run accident on Main St. in Bark River in which two cars were damaged is under investigation by State Police. Troopers said someone hit the rear of a car owned by James Kleiman of Bark River, pushing it into a car owned by Mathew Lesmeski of Wilson. Both damaged cars were parked.

A colt owned by Clarence Lemerand, 925 Washington Ave., Escanaba, was killed Thursday when it ran across M-35 in Ford River township into the path of an Olson Transportation Co. truck driven by Gerald Delaney, Marquette. State Police reported.

VACATION OR YEAR-ROUND: This A-frame Chalet, a prime favorite in the House of the Week series, has the appearance of a vacation home but is designed with all the livability features that would make it suitable for use 12 months of the year.

A-Frame Is 'Most Popular'

By ANDY LANG
It is always interesting to discover what people like—and attempt to determine the reasons for their approval. With that objective, we researched the records to find the most popular house used in the House of the Week series in recent years.

Not too surprisingly, in view of an emphatic trend, it turned out to be an A-frame vacation structure with enough features to make it a permanent residence for those who want a casual but comfortable home. It's a chalet-styled design that has the rugged look of a traditional Swiss mountain lodge.

with three bedrooms and a front deck 47' wide, large enough to make it an outdoor dining, living and play area whenever weather conditions permit.

The main floor of this house, first presented two years ago, contains the basic living section. There are two bedrooms, a bathroom and a large combined living room, dining room and kitchen—a striking, attractive area. The chimney runs through the center of the house, permitting a large fireplace in the living room and another directly below it in the recreation room. With the ceiling rising clear up to the roof, with a picturesque balcony looking down from the second floor and with a wide, peaked window expanse, plus sliding glass doors leading to an outdoor deck, the main floor is indeed unusual and beautiful.

The two bedrooms on this floor are divided by a wall of closets. And each bedroom has sliding glass doors leading to a rear patio. The bathroom, off a center foyer, has a diamond-paned window, similar to that in the kitchen.

Stop right here and you have 977 square feet of comfortable livability for any family that requires no more than two bedrooms. But there are two bonus areas: a third bedroom behind that second-floor balcony, as well as a lavatory and two closets; and a ground floor plan that includes a recreation room, a laundry, the utilities, a place for sports equipment and general storage—and a section large enough to handle an automobile or a boat.

The long outdoor deck at the front of the house can be reached from stairs on either end as well as from the inside. Under the deck is a patio-type area ideal for outdoor relaxing when the sun is too hot for taking it easy on the upper deck.

Why was this house so popular?

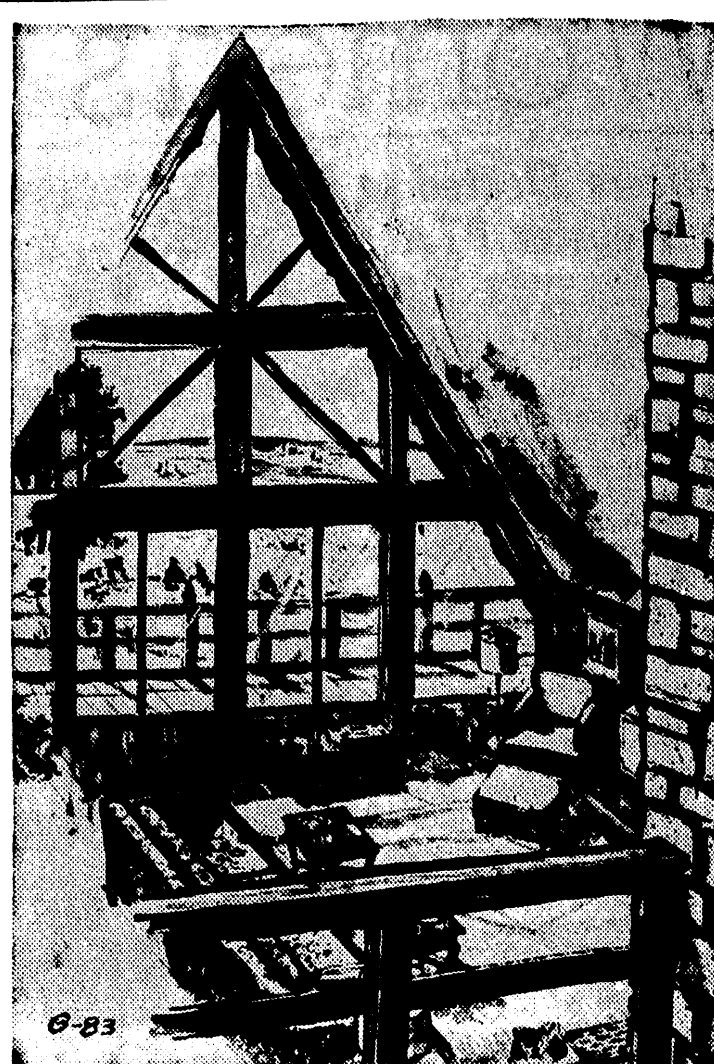

We can't be sure, but architect Derick B. Kipp must have been doing something right when he designed it. Its popularity might be due to the combination of exterior chalet styling with the typical A-frame plan. Or to the excellent

G-83 STATISTICS

Design G-83, the most popular House of the Week in recent years, has a combined living room-dining room-kitchen, stretching 25' 6" across the front of the house; two bedrooms, a foyer and a bath on the main floor, with 977 square feet of livability. A single bedroom and lavatory upstairs adds 374 square feet. The ground floor has a recreation room, laundry, utility room, large storage area and space for an automobile or boat. There is an outdoor deck at the front of the house, a patio at the rear—both on the main floor level.

merging of the outdoor and indoor areas. Or the general atmosphere of casual living. Or the practical utilization of the space inside.

Most likely, it was a combination of everything. The soundness of the design—all with over-all dimensions of 47' 4" by 47' 4", including the front deck—makes certain a continuation of its appeal for a long time.

VIEW FROM BALCONY: Standing on the second-floor balcony, one looks down on the living room and beyond that to an outdoor deck across the entire front of the house.

FEATURES CECOROLL THE WEATHERTIGHT COVERING

Could you use a building like this? Up to 50' clear-span width, up to 74' overall width with Packet Expanders and as long as you need. You can put up a Cecoroll Building . . . in a few days . . . for the price of a pole building, same size. (You can also start out with a smaller basic clear-span structure and add length and width later.)

The Cecoroll Building is a common-sense combination of steel for strength and durability; wood—where it serves best—for economy. Written warranty covers all steel parts.

Cecoroll, featured on every Packet Building, is unmatched as a corrugated metal roofing. It's the patented roofing that offers roll-out convenience, flat-to-flat nailing, and factory-applied permanent mastic.

Cecoroll is much easier to apply than conventional sheets. It won't loosen or leak—even under hurricane conditions. Get it in colors . . . green or white vinyl-base paint pressure-bonded on galvanized steel. Also in regular galvanized finish or embossed aluminum. Cecoroll makes an ideal siding material, too.

Come in and talk about the Cecoroll Building. We can show you how to get all the storage you need . . . at down-to-earth prices.

U.S.-Panama To Push New Treaty

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — President Johnson and Panama's President Marco Robles agreed to move as quickly as possible to an agreement on a new Panama Canal treaty.

Johnson and Robles also indicated the negotiations toward the treaty have been going ahead harmoniously and the presidents might meet again in a few months to approve a final agreement.

If the special ambassadorial level discussions make enough progress to warrant further review by the presidents and their foreign ministers, Johnson said, "we will meet again in the next few months to wrap it up."

Johnson and Robles spoke to newsmen following an hour-long breakfast at Johnson's seaside villa here.

Cut Bean Acreage

LANSING (AP) — Michigan processors plan to plant 2,600 acres of green lima beans this year, 24 per cent more than the five-year average but four per cent below last year. The State Crop Reporting Service said processors also will plant 12,300 acres of snap beans, a 17 per cent increase over the five-year period but a two per cent decrease from 1966.

Propose Safety Extension For Small Car Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Garry Brown, R-Mich., plans to introduce a bill to give automobile companies that produce fewer than 10,000 cars a year more time to conform with safety standards and testing requirements.

The safety law requires that auto makers meet initial federal standards by next Jan. 31.

Brown's proposal would grant a one-year extension to about a half dozen small companies, including Checker Motors Corp., Kalamazoo, Mich., which produces about 6,000 cars and taxicabs a year.

The new safety standards, Brown said, could spell disaster for specialty auto manufacturers unless the companies are given more time to conform.

More Wheat

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 1967 wheat crop is estimated at 43 million bushels by the State Crop Reporting Service, two-fifths more than the 1966 harvest. The service said wheat seedings were up 47 per cent last fall from the previous year. The crop came through the winter with only light damage and moisture supplies were reported adequate.

K-12 Law Result: School Districts Reduced By 175

LANSING (AP)—At least 175 school districts in Michigan have disappeared in the past 2 1/2 years, resulting in some sadness, some higher taxes and — ideally — better education for thousands of pupils.

The districts disappeared as a result of the K-12 law of 1964, which aimed at arranging school districts so that each offered the full range of grades from kindergarten through 12th.

The disappearing districts offered elementary grades only, and their 13,738 pupils were transferred to districts which included high schools, too.

The aim was to expand the size and tax base of the high school districts, which cost more to run, and allow them to provide a fuller range of courses.

The law doesn't force K-12 districts on any area, though. It merely requires that a committee in each of Michigan's 60 intermediate school district develop a plan for rearranging local districts so that each would offer K-12.

Some Elections Pending
Residents of the affected districts voted on the plans, and in many cases they decided to leave the districts alone.

Some elections still are pending, but 40 intermediate districts have completed all requirements of the law. Voters in at least 27 intermediate districts have rejected all or part of the proposed reorganization plans, but these districts include some which must vote again.

The law provides that if an intermediate district's master reorganization plan is turned down, the smaller consolidations within the master plan must be voted on separately.

The State Department of Education reported that elections so far have eliminated many school districts which it considered inadequate, but said after all the law's requirements are met, many still will remain.

In some cases, taxes will go up for residents of districts which disappeared "as they begin to pay their full share of high school costs," said Roger Boline, a consultant with the department.

High Schools More Costly
Because of the wider range of courses offered and additional equipment needed, high school education is more costly than grade school operation, he added.

In many cases, he said, struggling high school districts would scrimp on supplies for the elementary schools in order to meet standards which some colleges demand of high schools.

K-12 consolidation was intended to reduce this problem by providing a larger tax base for the struggling districts, said Boline.

Non-high school districts send their high school-age children to neighboring districts on a tuition basis but, Boline noted, have no voice in the operations of the high school district.

Even with tuition charges, high school districts often end up paying a share of the cost of educating youngsters from outside the district, he said.

Besides higher taxes in some places, there often is an emotional issue, too.

Emotions Stir

"Many areas get very worked up when people think of having to close the building where grandpa went to school, and they lost their local board of education," Boline said.

"They like to keep this little unit of government," he said, "but unfortunately it doesn't take care of the total educational program."

Pointing out the loss of local control of the grade school program and the possibility of higher taxes, an organization called Friends of Michigan Schools campaigned actively against K-12 consolidations, Boline said.

"The real basis for their argument is that they want their kids to go to high school but they don't want to pay for it," was the reply from educators who advocated con-olidation.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A SHELTERED PORCH offers a gracious entry to this ranch home, which is "squared off" to need a lot of smaller size. The dining porch is sheltered, too, and a rear patio offers backyard privacy. Three bedrooms in a row have their own facilities, with two baths. Another lavatory is convenient to the kitchen, family room and dining areas. The kitchen includes a bow-window dinette. Plan HA487C has 1,390 square feet of living area and was designed by Lester Cohen, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N.Y. 10036.

Burtons Plan Vietnam Visits

SAINT RAPHAEL, France (AP) — Richard Burton said here that he and his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, may try to visit North as well as South Vietnam during a world tour starting in about a month.

Burton told of their travel plans at an impromptu news conference at which he and Miss Taylor expressed their happiness at her being named actress of the year for her performance in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Burton said they would remain in France for about a month, then go to New York, Los Angeles, Hawaii, Vietnam and then to Wales, Burton's birthplace. Queried by newsmen, he said they would visit South Vietnam and hoped to go afterward to the North.

There was no indication that the couple have taken any steps to arrange a trip to North Vietnam.

Duluth-Superior Shipping Starts

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — The shipping season at Duluth-Superior was under way Thursday after a pair of ore boats steamed out with a blast of whistles.

The Governor Miller passed under the aerial bridge Wednesday to signal the opening of the 1967 navigation season and was joined later by the Irving S. Olds, another ore freighter. Both ships are from U.S. Steel Corp.'s Pittsburgh fleet.

The West German freighter Neptun is expected to arrive at Duluth tonight, becoming the first ocean-going vessel to inaugurate the shipping season from the lower Great Lakes.

The Neptun was churning through Lake Superior waters after clearing the Sault Ste. Marie locks at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Some ice floes are reported in the Whitefish Bay area, and a

Various comments and observations are exchanged with sighting of UFOs from time to time here. One of the most amusing has concerned a woman who regularly drives to work from a neighboring community.

Somewhat alarmed by the lights following closely in the sky, she had asked her husband, "What will I do if they pick me up or something?"

His reply: "Leave me a note telling me where you went."

One species of large, red jellyfish sometimes reaches seven feet in diameter and grows tentacles five feet long. It may weigh as much as half a ton.

Set Mediation Meeting For School Monday

The mediation meeting between representatives of the Manistique Board of Education and the Auxiliary Service Employees union has been scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Central School. Carl York of Rapid River will represent the state mediation service.

A wage reopener for 1967-68 and cash payment for loss of insurance benefits from September, 1966 are sought for all auxiliary employees. For food service employees, a 40-hour week is asked. For bus drivers, the union seeks deletion of a clause on superintendent designation of place to bring the bus for oil change, lubrication and repairs, or to be compensated for time and mileage. A bus driver increase in weekly guarantee also is asked.

Briefly Told

Emil A. Knoph Sr., is a surgical patient in the veterans hospital in Iron Mountain.

Christina Dean, 203 Schoolcraft was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at 7:10 p.m. Wednesday.

The VFW Auxiliary will meet April 18 at 8 p.m. in the VFW Club Rooms. Lunch will be served.

St. Anne's Altar Society will meet April 18 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Francis de Sales Parish Center. A program of special interest will be presented.

Ruth Kennedy Jacobs was taken by ambulance to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital from her home on Big Spring Road, at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

State Police ticketed John A. Rudin, Sault Ste. Marie, violation of basic speed law, Leonard S. Hocking, Chelsea, Lester L. Bald, Hudsonville, and Leonard N. Aagesen, Flint, speeding.

Frank Jasmin, 18, of Thompson appeared in Justice Court to enter a plea of guilty on a charge of disorderly conduct, lodged against him in February, 1966, as a result of a disturbance on West Shore Drive. Fine of $50 and costs of $4.30 and a 5-day jail sentence were levied. The jail term and $25 of the fine were suspended in lieu of 6-months probation.

CLERIC TO CLERK

The word "clerk" has a religious background. In the Middle Ages, only the clergy knew how to read or write and, for this reason, any person with that ability was assumed to be a cleric or clerk.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Victoria Ward, Will Davis, Sarah Ross, Mary Chandanais, Minola Weber, Carlene Vail and Christina Dean.

Discharged were Sonia Gehrett, Louise Oliver and Renee Manspeaker.

ORIGINAL NAME

The Red Horse Inn was the original name of the Wayside Inn made popular by Longfellow's "Tales of a Wayside Inn." The collection was so successful that the inn changed its name by popular demand.

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

Dave Hallgren, junior varsity basketball coach at Menominee the past two years, has been named head coach at Negaunee where he will succeed Bob (Pappy) Ellis who resigned this year because of health reasons. Hallgren, a native of Norway, graduated from Western Michigan University and served as head basketball coach at Channing for two years and downstate Galien for four before joining the Menominee staff. His Galien teams compiled a 59-18 record and in 1964 he guided his cagers to the state Class C semifinals and a fine 22-1 mark.

Would you believe Fife Smith is trying for a bowling triplicate? . . . In the last three weeks he has recorded the following series: 189, 189 and 156 . . . 189, 189 and 152 . . . 171, 171 and 149 . . . Rolling in the Tuesday Bowlamarama League, Cece Buchholz recently picked up the 6-7-10 split.

Tony Richardson, Northern Michigan University place kicking specialist the past two seasons, has signed a professional contract with the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League. Richardson, who signed as a free agent, is a native of downstate Osceola. He established six new PAT and field goal records in his two years at Northern.

Rolf Deming, former University of Minnesota golfer, has been named professional at Riverside Country Club in Menominee. Deming, 27, graduated from Minnesota in 1962 and has served as professional in St. Paul and Minneapolis clubs for the past four years.

Coach Dick Koski of Ontonagon has 10 returning track and field lettermen on his squad this spring, including a pair of Upper Peninsula Class C champions. Don Bussiere was unbeaten in the shot put last year and won the event in the U. P. finals with a toss of 47 feet 11 1/4 inches. Howard Hegg was one of the Peninsula's top quarter milers last spring as a junior, winning a section of 440 in the U. P. finals at Marquette in 54.4 seconds.

Chuck Crago of Escanaba put on quite a show recently in the Wisconsin State Bowling tournament in Appleton, rattling series of 695 and 613 in the doubles and singles events. Crago had strings of eight strikes twice, once to open the first game of the singles which he finished with 237. Crago's doubles partner, Harold Krusie, had 576 to go with the 695 and with a 42 pin handicap their 1,313 total should finish high in the prize list. The DeGrand Oil Co. team of Escanaba of Krusie, Don Scott, Ken Dufresne, Jon McDermott and Bob Pearson rolled 3,023.

Perry Pitches Giants To Win Over Atlanta

By The Associated Press. Gaylord Perry was scared of one batter, but it looks as if National League hitters may be spending another season worrying about Gaylord Perry.

A 21-game winner last season, the San Francisco pitcher allowed Atlanta just four hits in his 1967 debut Thursday night as the Giants rode homers by Willie Mays and Willie McCovey to a 2-0 triumph over the Braves.

Perry didn't pitch more than seven innings at a stretch during the exhibition season and when the ninth inning rolled around Thursday, the tall right-hander found himself with a man on base and the tying run at the plate. The tying run's name was Hank Aaron.

"I was scared to death when Hank came up," Perry related later in the dressing room. "He's the toughest out in the league."

But Aaron became Perry's fourth strikeout victim and two fly balls later the game was over.

Mays' home run, the 543rd of his career, came in the first inning off Tony Cloninger, who also gave up McCovey's shot in the third and took the defeat.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati edged Houston 5-4 and New York nipped Pittsburgh 3-2. Philadelphia at Chicago and Los Angeles at St. Louis were rained out.

Deron Johnson's three runs batted in, two coming on the home run in the fifth inning, provided the Reds with their

Groos Big Point Producer

Nine Crusader Veterans Are Back On Track Team

Nine letter winners are among the 48 track and field candidates drilling daily at Holy Name High School.

The Crusader athletes, coached by John Butrymowicz and Doug Bovin, will get their first taste of competition for the 1967 season at the eighth annual Intercollegiate Indoor Relays at Northern Michigan University Saturday.

Back in the fold for Holy Name are veterans Bob Brisco, Dave Cannon, Jim Groos, Tom Menard, Dick Robitaille, Tom Smith, Dick Armstrong, Daryl Prey and Dan Paterick. All point winners during the 1966 season. Groos, swift striding senior, was the leading point producer as a junior last season when he compiled 77 1/2 points while competing in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, long jump and half mile relay. Groos was runnerup in both the sprints in the Upper Peninsula finals meet at Marquette last spring.

Brisco was also a steady point producer in the shot put, pole vault and high jump and Smith earned solid points in the 440, mile relay and long jump. Cannon competed in the hurdles and half mile relay. Menard in the hurdles, Robitaille and Paterick in the mile. Armstrong in the half mile and Prey in the 440 and mile relay.

The Holy Name squad is made up of 14 seniors, 3 juniors, 12 sophomores and 19 freshmen.

In addition to the lettermen, candidates include freshmen

Lights Go Out, Game Is Called

ANAHEIM (AP) — There's something devilish about the luck of the California Angels.

The American Leaguers have had six home games rained out and one called off because of a light failure in the seven years they have been in existence. By comparison, the Los Angeles Dodgers have never had a postponement at home in the 10 years since they left Brooklyn.

Angel misfortune took a weird, new turn Thursday night when a broken switch on a nearby transformer knocked out four banks of lights at Anaheim Stadium, causing postponement of a series opener against Cleveland.

The partial blackout occurred about an hour before game time while Cleveland was taking batting practice. Angel management waited an hour and six minutes after the scheduled starting time, before calling off the game.

Angel manager Bill Rigney, aware that a crowd of about 8,000 was growing restless, at 8:45 p.m. invited the fans onto the field to get autographs from the California players.

Canadiens Snatch Spot In Stanley Cup Finals

By The Associated Press

It will be the Montreal Canadiens against the survivor of the Toronto-Chicago semifinal series for the Stanley Cup.

The Canadiens, winners of the National Hockey League's prized post-season playoff trophy in each of the last two years, advanced to the finals by completing a four-game sweep of the New York Rangers 2-1 Thursday night.

Chicago, the NHL regular season champions, tied the best-of-7 series against Toronto at 2-2, beating the Maple Leafs 4-3 in Thursday's other game.

John Ferguson, who scored eight of his 20 regular season goals against the Rangers and three more in the four-game playoff series, was the hero for the Canadiens. He won a loose puck into a gaping New York net after 6 1/2 minutes of sudden-death overtime.

New York goalie Ed Giacomin had stopped the initial shot, sliding out of the net. But he lost control of the puck and Ferguson found it at his feet. He swiped at it once, missed and then swung again, sweeping it into the net.

"I couldn't believe the puck was there," he said later. "That's why it took me so long to put it in the net."

Giacomin said he thought he had the rubber in his glove. "It hit in the webbing," the New York goalie said. "Then I moved away and saw it laying there."

Eric Nesterenko and Bobby Hull scored the third-period goals that carried the Black Hawks to their victory over Toronto.

Both teams scored twice in playoff series, the first before Nest-enko broke the deadlock and Hull added an insurance goal, net after 6 1/2 minutes of sudden-death overtime.

Card of Thanks

Arkens

We take this means to extend our heartfelt thanks for all the kindness and sympathy shown us by neighbors, relatives and friends in the death of our beloved step-father and brother, John Arkens. A special word of appreciation for the floral tributes and the memorial gifts. To Rev. Charles Beckingham for his words of comfort and for the singing and organists for their beautiful songs. Ladies of the Salem Lutheran Church, Boyle Funeral Home, and donors of cars. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

Mrs. Joseph Arkens and Tony Arkens

It Identifies The Problem, But . . .

Delinquency Talk Spurs No Action

There are many frustrations in public life but none seems more persistent than that attending the efforts to solve juvenile delinquency.

Escanaba Area School Supt. Luther Barrett made the latest try with a conference of 20 clergymen, welfare workers, police, prosecutor, probate court judge and county juvenile officer, school officials and others at the high school library Thursday night.

The conference on the Escanaba area's juvenile misbehavior didn't develop an action program but its discussion pointed to at least two directions where there might be some help for the present efforts to cope with the problem. These are:

1. An increased accent on the schools' effort to identify in the lower grades the child in trouble and apt to come into conflict with the community and the law.

Teachers and school administrators, with so much else to do, are lacking practical means of bringing effective help to such situations, especially because control requires work with the family as well as the child.

2. The probate court, which has jurisdiction over juveniles until they're 17 (and which can be asked to exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court from 17 through 20 under a new Michigan law) might use more of the resources of the community, especially the prosecutor, police and school officials, in dealing with offenders.

Probate Judge Marie Peters and Police Chief Harold Finman told of the effort to involve parents in the correction of delinquency in their own children and of the frustrating results. Parents often take a hostile attitude toward the public efforts to help their children, regarding it as punitive and discriminatory, although the intent of law regarding all juveniles in trouble is protection and rehabilitation.

In Michigan, newspapers may not print the names of juvenile offenders, as a part of this protective shield. Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapkis said that in Michigan a child is presumed by the law to be incapable of committing a crime from the age of 7 to 15, because of his age. And yet most of the public pressures on the police, the prosecutor, the courts and the press are for more punishment of young law breakers, more commitments to state schools, more fines and probation sentences, more punishment of parents who neglect their children or excuse their delinquency.

Publication of the names of juvenile defendants, a general crackdown on the erring young.

Catch It Early

The conferences noted that most school children are very good citizens and that when baddies are brought into court the reasons are soon apparent and they are not the child's fault, it is not usually vicious, but the victim of a family environment that is anti-social, delinquent and sometimes retarded.

A school officer said: "In 9 out of 10 cases when you talk with the parents you know why the problem exists." The court can bring in parents for an accounting of juvenile misbehavior, but there is no magic in the process, despite the fact that most juvenile offenders are one or two timers and then are seen no more by the juvenile officer or the court.

The baddies come into collision with the law again and again and police are usually more helpful that something can be done to intercept such trouble at an early age by expanded counseling than that the parents can be changed in lifelong habits of poor example to their children.

Parents Don't Care

Delta County has sent 7 boys to state vocational school in the past year, after a half decade in which the average was 2 or 3 commitments a year. (Menominee County sent none.) It indicates an active juvenile delinquency problem here, but no worse a one, the conference speakers said, than that to be found in comparable communities. At Sault Ste. Marie, two policemen have been assigned exclusively to juvenile work, so troublesome is that area of policing in the Lock City.

Escanaba has a 10 o'clock curfew ordinance but no curfew. The conference agreed it was unrealistic. Many school and church functions keep children out past that hour and when the police pick up children they're usually taken to homes in which the parents are still out.

The conference didn't mention it, but its discussion — until 11 p. m. — indicated that the public wants kids to behave and wants public employees to force them to do it, but that the kids are really in even deeper trouble than breaking the beer ban and their parents don't care.

Lemmer School Hosts Elementary Science Exhibit

The Escanaba Area public schools will hold an Elementary Schools Science Exhibit Saturday from 1 to 4 p. m. in the Multi-purpose room of the John Lemmer School.

The public is invited to view projects constructed by the 4th, 5th and 6th grade students. Purpose of the exhibit is to encourage students to construct science projects with teacher and parental help. The exhibits will not be judged because it is felt that it is more beneficial for the elementary student to participate in some activities without the pressure of competition and for the pure enjoyment and satisfaction of doing a task without having to be rewarded for his efforts, a school spokesman said.

Students will bring projects to the Lemmer School by 5 p. m. today and take them home by 4:30 p. m. on Saturday.

Mrs. Marien McGovern and Mrs. Nellie Johnson are co-chairmen of the Elementary Science Exhibit.

Girls Will Attend Economics Session

The First National Bank & Trust Co. of Escanaba today announced that two local high school students, Mary Bourke of Holy Name and Phyllis Benjamin of Escanaba Area High School have been named to attend the Seventh Annual Economic Conference for Young Adults to be held in Minneapolis, April 20, 21 and 22.

They were selected for the honor by Holy Name and Escanaba Area High school authorities and will be the guests of First National Bank & Trust Co. The bank will pay the expense of their visit to Minneapolis.

Housing Meeting Planned April 20

MARQUETTE—Upper Michigan housing problems will be the subject of a conference sponsored by Northern Michigan University in cooperation with the Federal Housing Administration Thursday, April 20.

The program, scheduled at 9 a. m. in the University Center, will offer realtors, bankers and contractors information covering all phases of housing construction and financing.

Participating will be three FHA representatives from Grand Rapids—assistant director Verne Matson, chief underwriter Robert Nott, and chief architect Gordon Griffith. Presentation on appraisals will be Raymond Bydalek and Roy Bennette, both of FHA valuation section, and a discussion on FHA mortgages by Stephen Sanders, chief mortgage credit examiner.

Burial Benefits Denied Victims Of Vietnam War

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Members of the armed forces killed in action in Vietnam are not qualified for burial benefits under the public acts, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley held Thursday.

George Cook, legal adviser of the Kent County Board of Supervisors, had said that veterans were entitled to a $200 county burial benefit if their estate was less than $15,000.

Cook said Vietnam veterans were entitled to the benefits the same as veterans of any war so recognized by the U.S. government.

In his opinion directed to Cook, Kelley said the "absent issuance of a presidential proclamation proclaiming the existence of a national emergency and designating the beginning date thereof, service in the armed forces during the Vietnam conflict will not qualify veterans thereof for benefits under the various acts."

Kelley said the sole presidential proclamation issued with respect to the Vietnamese conflict was one which designated Nov. 28, 1965, for honoring men and women risking their lives in Vietnam.

Board Certifies Deputies Group

The Delta County Deputies Association was certified as the sole bargaining agent for deputies of the Sheriff's Dept. in contract talks by the Board of Supervisors Thursday night.

Action came after an opinion by Michigan Attorney Gen. Frank Kelly that the Board of supervisors and not the Sheriff is the employer of the deputies. Under Public Act 379, which permits public employees to organize into a union for bargaining over wages and working conditions, the deputies of Delta County organized into the association and petitioned the Board for recognition.

The Board delayed certification pending the Attorney General's opinion sought by Prosecutor Nicholas Chapkis. Because the Sheriff has the power to hire and fire deputies, the Board felt that the Sheriff might, in fact, be the employer.

Kelly, in a lengthy opinion, ruled that the "Delta County Board of Supervisors is the employer of the deputy sheriff, and, as their employer, is the body to negotiate with the Delta County Deputies Association if the latter is certified as the exclusive bargaining agent of deputy sheriffs of Delta County."

Although the Board certified the Deputies Association, no date was set for first negotiation session for a contract for 1968.

The Association represents five deputy sheriffs not including Sheriff C. A. (Cully) Johnson or Undersheriff Joseph Hillebrand. Deputy Neil Kositzky is its chairman.
